Good Clothing at Norton's

RARE and stimulating styles that you must see are now ready. These are the styles which look better on you than they do in the show window and that's "going some." On your way home from the shop, the office, the store, or from school, stop in and have a look, two looks, a dozen looks. Clothes for young gentlemen as well as for old. Brandegee Kincaid or Fit Form add to your appearance like a hard day's work adds to your appetite. Every style is a real one—right out of the oven—every stitch is well done. The coats fit beautifully, the trousers fit. The prices are right. Can you ask more?

BRAVE REPORTER GOT NEWS.

Hiram Adolph Dew King, railroad and police station reporter for The Times, who says that although he is stunted in size, he makes up for it in intelligence, was soundly berated Monday while securing some important news of a family scrape from the wife at the Burlington station. Hiram Adolph, seeming trouble with unerring accuracy, and skilled with many years of experience, trailed the lady into the ladies waiting room in the Burlington depot and begged for an interview. "It's none of your business, my little man," said the lady. "This world would be a whole lot better off without people like you." Hiram secured the story, however, and it formed the leading news item of the highly educational sheet which he represented on Tuesday.
